MIGHTY "BABE" RUTH RE- TURNS FROM EXILE

The suspension of the greatest home-run hitter that baseball has ever known terminated May 20. At upper left he is shown as he appeared during banishment. At right he is drawing back to line out a "homer." At lower left is the man whom Ruth must beat if he retains his crown—Kenneth Williams of the St. Louis Browns, who had eleven home runs up to May 18.

French troops in Upper Silesia about to search a mortuary chapel at Gleiwitz for hidden arms reported to be buried there.

Some of the rifles and munitions found beneath the chapel as the first results of the search.

Scene after the explosion which completely destroyed the chapel and killed eleven French soldiers.

ONE of the reasons why France still distrusts Germany is furnished by a tragic occurrence which took place not long ago when French soldiers undertook to search a mortuary chapel at Gleiwitz, Upper Silesia, for a store of arms reported to be secreted there. It was suspected that the chapel was mined and great precautions were taken in consequence. Despite these, however, a terrific explosion occurred after some of the arms had been found and removed, destroying the chapel, killing eleven French soldiers and wounding eleven others. It has been difficult to find evidence fixing the responsibility for the explosion because of the vengeance on the part of the German authorities feared by informers.

The proverbial phrase "as rough as a lion's tongue" is easily understood after examining this photograph of the tongue, made by the London Zoo. It is covered with spines or papillae, some of which are one-fourth of an inch long and as sharp as needles.

Victors and Vanquished in Pennsylvania Primaries

THE contest waged in the Pennsylvania Republican primaries for nominations of Governor and Senator has attracted national attention because of the clean-cut issue between the "machine" and the independent voters. The candidate of the latter for Governor was Gifford Pinchot, a warm friend of the late Theodore Roosevelt, and a leader for many years of the progressive element in the party. Alter, his opponent, was supported by Governor Sproul and the regular Republican organization. It was recognized that Pinchot was strong in the small towns and rural districts, but the organization leaders depended on the votes of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh to give Alter a majority. Pinchot, however, made a vigorous campaign and was elected by a comparatively small but decisive majority. Pepper, the regular Republican candidate for Senator, won by a sweeping majority over Burke.

The accident was due to the refusal of the motor to work with more than half its cylinders.—The anti-bandit gun, with its capacity for a thousand shots a minute, has been adopted in twenty city Police Departments in addition to that of New York City. It is effective at a distance of 500 yards.—The reign of terror that has prevailed in Chicago reached its climax recently in the slaying of two policemen. pictured received as a prize a large silver loving cup with her name engraved upon it.—That women may really become competitors of men in some athletic sports is indicated by the fact that the running high jump made by Miss Grace Manning was only one-eighth of an inch below the national record.—It is something unusual for a heavy train moving at a high rate of speed to be derailed by striking an automobile. Usually it is the auto and its occupants alone who suffer under such circumstances.—Contrary to precedent, the parade of the New York police force this year was attended by beautiful weather, and the 5,000 or more men who participated made a brave showing.

Russians Helped Through Famine Period by American Relief Administration

ALTHOUGH millions have perished from starvation during the terrible famine that has been raging in Soviet Russia, many millions more have been saved by the relief furnished by the United States Government through the American Relief Administration. The photographs on this page are very recent ones, for which we are indebted to the courtesy of the administration. Food amounting in value to $20,000,000 has been purchased and distributed with all the speed possible, considering the difficulties of transportation in Russia. In Tsarytsin as many as 106,000 one-pound rations were distributed in a single day. With the raw corn furnished, the administration hands out recipes for the making of corn bread, mush, soup, biscuits and gruel. If the hungry recipient is not able to read, as is frequently the case, he is given oral instruction. The gratitude of the Russians is described as "pathetic" by Herbert Hoover.

Berlin was no exception.—Mrs. Mallory, the American woman tennis champion, has arranged to go to Europe this Summer, where she will play for the championship of the world. maiden. Keen competition exists among the members of the fair sex in Borneo as to which can have the greatest number of coins pendant to the wires of the corset. —The President is extremely fond of equestrian exercise and this penchant has grown since the acquisition of the noble horse which he obtained recently from Mr. Firestone of Akron, Ohio, who was his companion on a camping trip last Summer.

—The tornado that struck Austin, Texas, recently was of the twin variety, which split north of the city and struck its heaviest blows on the outskirts. Ten were killed, many injured, and the damage is estimated at half a million dollars.—The Prince of Wales ought to be an accomplished ethnologist upon his return to Great Britain, for in the course of his tour he has seen at first hand most of the curious customs and practices of the people of the Far East.

LIGHTNING STARTS OIL TANK FIRE AT THE TIDEWATER OIL PLANT IN BAYONNE, N. J.
During the afternoon of May 15 a bolt of lightning struck one of the great tanks at the Tidewater Oil Plant at Bayonne, N. J. Instantly the tank was in a mass of flames. The fire-fighting apparatus at the plant immediately got into action and the burning tank was sprayed with chemicals. For a time the entire plant was in peril, and before the flames could be subdued $2,000,000 worth of property was consumed.

THE President recently threw off the cares of state for a few days' recreation at Atlantic City, N. J., and while there witnessed the performance of a little player only 5 years old, who has developed amazing skill at the royal game and can make the course in 120.—The fire at the Tidewater Oil plant, Bayonne, N. J., caused by lightning during the first thunderstorm of the season, was most spectacular. The sky was reddened for miles by the glare of flames, and the blasts caused by explosions could be heard at a great distance.—Full of promise for the health and vigor of the coming generation are such athletic tournaments as that staged at Los Angeles, Cal., in which the contestants, both men and women, developed surprising skill in the contest for the championship of the State.—

NAVAL DISARMAMENT

Something of a sensation has been caused in pugilistic circles by the advent of the Buenos Aires heavyweight, who added another victim to his rapidly growing list when he knocked out Jack Herman of Newark and conclusively demonstrated his superiority.—A memorial of Caruso that adorns the opera house at the capital, is only one of many such busts, either completed or in the course of completion, that will eventually be placed in the foyer of every important opera house in the country.—The scrapping program of the United States Navy, while doubtless a step toward peace, arouses some sentimental regret when one sees destroyers bearing a gold star on their funnels, indicating that they have a sunken German submarine to their credit, consigned to the scrap heap.

American Troops Leaving Coblenz with Wives and Children

IT was unavoidable that among a force of 17,000 men domiciled for a long time in German homes some would fall in love with and wed the German girls with whom they became acquainted. While the total number was relatively small, there were still several hundreds who contracted these unions, and each returning transport has brought back many wedded couples together with a child or children born in Germany.

*Like the human foot —
the proper shoe has a flexible arch*

"In the natural foot the arch is flexible and plays an important part in every step. When the shank of the shoe is stiff, this natural movement is prevented and the muscles deteriorate from disuse. Ability to maintain the necessary strength of the foot depends upon allowing the foot muscles free action. The shank of the shoe should be flexible."—Augusta Rucker, M. D., in McCall's Magazine.

CANTILEVER SHOES have the flexible shank which allows the foot free action and supreme comfort. No strip of rigid metal lies concealed in the arch of these shoes as in all ordinary shoes.

When you lace a Cantilever Shoe, the flexible shank is drawn up snugly under the arch of your foot, giving restful support. The arch muscles are free to maintain — or regain — their natural strength by the mere act of exercise. Thus are weak or fallen arches — and other ills — avoided or corrected.

In addition, Cantilever Shoes have further characteristics which make them more comfortable and more efficient than ordinary shoes. A natural sole line. Room for the toes without crowding. Good heels, rightly placed. An extensive range of widths and lengths to insure perfect fit.

And they have a grace of contour and the unmistakable "quality look" which harmonizes with the most distinguished apparel. Prices are reasonable.

If no dealer listed at the right is near you, write the manufacturers, Morse & Burt Co., 11 Carlton Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., for the address of a nearby dealer and the Cantilever Shoe Booklet.
